Korean Bonus Bill Sent To Stratton

Signature Promised by Governor;
Plan Will Be Subject to Referendum

SPRINGFIELD (UP)—The Senate today stamped final approval on the 75-million-dollar Korean veterans bonus plan and sent it to the governor for the approval he has said he will give.

The bonus plan would be subject to a 1958 referendum and would be financed with a bond issue to be paid off with a 1 cent a pack increase in the cigarette tax.

The Senate defeated, 45-9, a move by Sen. Arthur W. Sprague (R-La. Graige) to refuse concurrence in House amendments to the bonus plan.

Sprague's purpose in seeking disapproval of the House amendments was to force the bonus bills to be recommitted to a committee where they could be completely rewritten.

Sprague wanted to rewrite the

Stepmother, Aunt of Mrs. Louis Gall Jr., Ruth Brockett Dies

Mrs. Harry L. Brockett, stepmother and aunt of Mrs. Louis Gall Jr., died in Albion at 8:35 p. m. Monday. She had been ill for about a year and a half at the time of her death. She was married to Harry L. Brockett in September of 1945, and was a sister of the former wife of Mr. Brockett who died in 1940.

She is survived by her four stepdaughters, Mrs. Louis Gall Jr., and Miss Ruth Brockett, teacher in the Logan school, of Harrisburg, Mrs. Robert Hillyard of Claremont and Mrs. Meredith Kershaw of Albion. These women were particularly devoted to Mrs. Brockett.

Mrs. Brockett is also survived by her sisters, Mrs. Sadie Farrar of Casper, Wyo., and Mrs. Lizzie Turner of Elliott, Iowa. There are nieces and nephews and grand nieces and grand nephews, surviving.

Two sisters preceded her in death, Mrs. Margaret Brockett and Miss Eathel Woods.

There will be a funeral service at the West Union United Presbyterian church at 8 p. m. today. The church is located one mile north and one mile west of Brownsville. The body will lie in state at the church, from 6 p. m. until time for the funeral. Ingram funeral home of Albion is in charge of the arrangements. Rev. Kermit Prince of Anna, formerly of Enfield and West Union will officiate.

Following the funeral service and in accordance with her wish Mrs. Brockett's body will be taken to Casper, Wyo., to rest beside her former husband, Rev. Delbert Montgomery. Mrs. Gall and Miss Brockett will accompany the body to Casper.

House Refuses To Vote Judicial Reform During Long Session

Arraigned on 3 Charges After Auto Collision

Charles Day, 27, Harrisburg Route 4, has been arraigned on three charges of failure to make a signal, driving without a driver's license and driving when driver's license was revoked, following his arrest by State Policeman Adolph Sweat after a collision Friday evening.

Taken before Justice of the Peace O. L. Woods, Day was fined on the first two counts, and in county court Monday, Judge Trafletton Dennis put him on probation for 30 days on the charge of driving after revocation.

His vehicle was involved in a collision with a car driven by Ruby Brown Stoelze of Fayetteville, N. C., on Route 13 east of Harrisburg.

Day lost his driver's license Feb. 24, this year, after he was convicted in Gallatin county of driving while intoxicated following a collision on Route 13 near Equality.

Barter Awarded Lincoln Street Paving Project

$79,404 Bid Accepted at Special Meeting of Council

The J. D. Barter Construction Co. of Harrisburg submitted the low bid and was awarded the contract Monday night to pave Lincoln street west to Dennison.

The contract, awarded by the city council subject to the approval of the State Division of Highways, calls for completion of the street by Nov. 15 and the company indicated it will get started on the project soon.

The bids were opened at a special meeting of the city council. The Barter bid was $79,404.55, which was below the engineer's estimate. One other bid, by the Mitchell Contracting Co. of Harrisburg, was $83,771.60.

The plan calls for a 30-foot wide bituminous surface street with storm sewers, concrete curb and guttering and a new bridge over the West Harrisburg drainage ditch.

In other business transacted at the council meeting, City Attorney George B. Lee explained the new police and firemen merit system and the police and firemen pension plan which must be set up in Harrisburg according to legislation passed recently at Springfield.

The council also passed an ordinance prohibiting the connection of sanitary or industrial waste sewers to storm water drainage systems. The ordinance provides fines for violators.

Autos Collide

Autos driven by Donald Durham, 21, Eldorado, and Velma Lucille Drake of Poseyville, Ind., Route 1, collided in Eldorado yesterday when the Indiana woman drove from a side street into the path of the Durham auto, travelling on Illinois avenue, State Policeman Adolph Sweat reported. Miss Drake was given a traffic ticket charging failure to yield the right-of-way.

Cost of Living At All-Time High

WASHINGTON (UP)—The government today reported the cost of living climbed to an all-time high last May for the ninth straight month.

The Labor Department said the May consumer price index was 119.6 per cent of the 1947-49 average. The index was .3 of 1 per cent above April and 3.6 per cent higher than May, 1956.

The rise in living costs means wage boosts for nearly one million workers with "escalator" wage contracts tied to the cost of living. Food prices spearheaded the rise in living costs with a .7 of 1 per cent increase between April and May. Prices of fresh produce and meat went up seasonally.

The department also reported that the pay after taxes and the buying power of factory workers continued a decline that began last January. He attributed this to a shortening of the work week and the rise in the cost of living between April and May of this year.

Brother of Mrs. Oscar Hanning Dies

Mrs. Oscar Hanning has been called to East St. Louis because of the sudden death of her brother, Edwin L. Gasaway, who died of a heart attack Sunday while on a fishing trip with his son, Major Nicholas Gasaway, who had just returned from England.

Mr. Gasaway was an alumnus of St. Louis University and of the Naval Academy at Annapolis, and a former supervisor of the Welteraew Grocery company of St. Louis.

Oil, Chips On 90 Blocks of Streets; Prepare 35 More

Sneed Jordan, city commissioner of streets and alleys, today said that oil and chips have been placed on ninety blocks of city streets and that 35 more blocks are being prepared for surfacing either Wednesday or Thursday.

Jordan said that approximately 17 miles of city streets will be processed with funds from the city's half-cent sales tax. Last year the city oiled and chipped 14 miles of streets and this year these streets are getting new treatment with about three more miles being added to the program.

Wants Children to 'See Life'

Nebraska Man Pays $13,857 to Take His Six Youngsters on Trip Around World

TOKYO (UP)—A Nebraska oil and real estate man who wants his six youngsters to "see life" paid $13,857.95 today to take them on a trip around the world.

William Graham, Wichita, arrived in Japan with his wife and six youngsters last Saturday. He said he would climb Mt. Fuji, take his family cormorant fishing, hunt tigers in India and in short "just plain living."

Graham, a partner in the Graham-Michaelis drilling company in Wichita, lives about 20 miles outside Wichita's city limits.

His home and 40 acres of land is equipped with a runway for his two Beechcraft planes. The family also has a private lake for water skiing and fishing.

Graham paid Pan American Airways a $13,857.95 check in Tokyo today in exchange for air tickets that will take his family to Hong Kong, Bangkok, India, Europe "and any place else we decide to go."

A spokesman for Pan American said he thinks the Grahams are the largest family group ever to fly on a commercial airline around the world.

Graham, who was a graduate of Northwestern University in 1934, said he took his youngsters along on the trip because he and his wife "love to travel, and you can't do much when you're old but sit in a rocking chair anyway."

The Graham children are Becky 17, Connie 15, Margie 13, Teddy 11, Billy 8, and Jacky 6.

They left Wichita on June 1, and do not intend to return to the United States until September.

Graham's wife Marjorie said that aside from a few major cities the family's plans are "wide open."

"We'll go anywhere and see anything in our attempt to show our youngsters how the rest of the world lives. We aren't much interested in tourist attractions as such. We want our children to see people."

Young Jack Graham was not so sure about the outside world. When served with raw eggs and shiny fish eyes for dinner, he complained: "Don't they have any hamburgers in this place?"

Geodetic Survey Work Explained in Rotary Talk by Commander Wm. Martin

The work that is being done by the Geodetic survey party, which has been in and around Harrisburg establishing precise survey stations, was discussed at the Monday meeting of the Rotary club by Commander William N. Martin, who is in charge of the party.

Commander Martin explained that these triangulation stations help to make up a network of thousands of similar stations which are placed from 4 to 10 miles apart throughout the United States. Similar survey work is carried on in other countries, including all of North and South America. In order to get exact readings, steel towers of about 90 feet are erected from which the angles between the different towers are measured. This is usually done at night, and is accomplished by the use of a light placed on one of the towers, while a reading is taken on the location from a nearby observation tower.

The information gained from these surveys is used to form the basis for map making and is used in connection with many types of engineering projects. The bronze disc that is placed in the ground by the survey party to mark the location can be used for many years to come as a starting place for surveyors when they make their computations.

The following guests were present at the meeting: Lou Nelson from Marion, Ben Hayes from Kansas City, Frank Pankey from Tucson, Billy Pankey from Chicago, and Lindell Pankey from Washington.

The Rotary club will have family night for the members and their families Monday, July 1, at Buck Russler's cabin starting at 6 p. m. In the event of rain the meeting will be held at the Junior high school.

Addresses County Bankers

Bishop Promises State Planning Aid to Development Group

C. W. (Runt) Bishop, superintendent of the Illinois Industrial Planning and Development division, Monday night came to Harrisburg to explain the purpose of the division which he heads and to find out what this area has to offer.

Bishop, a former congressman from Cartersville, spoke to members of the Saline County Bankers association at the Harrisburg National bank following a dinner at Schriener's cafe. He had been invited here by the association to learn what the banks of the county can do to aid in industrial development. All banks in the county were represented.

Bishop, who stated he felt there is a great deal of opportunity in southeastern Illinois, stressed the importance of co-operation and coordination among communities, stating it would be impossible for any one community to supply all the labor for any industry hiring more than a hundred workers.

Declaring that industry is anxious to locate where communities can offer what they want, he said that there should be somebody in each community authorized to act for the town on an industrial matter, as time is the essence of deals, that this person should have all needed information at his fingertips.

Of great importance, he emphasized, is that everybody should develop the habit of being hospitable.

"You never know who is in town sizing up your community," he stated. "Little things sometimes greatly influence decisions."

Mr. Bishop said that his planning division will help with any needed research in event prospects are interested in a community and pleaded the total efforts of the division to any interested community.

Specifically, he said, the division shall:

1. Formulate, through research, plans for industrial expansion.
2. Collect and assemble, or cause to have collected and assembled, all pertinent information available regarding the industrial opportunities and possibilities of the State.

Name Two to Committee

3. Encourage new industrial enterprises to locate in Illinois, by legitimate educational and advertising mediums directed to point out the opportunities of the State as a commercial and industrial field of opportunity, and by solicitation of industrial enterprises.

4. Cooperate with local civic groups and other local, state and federal planning and development agencies.

5. Do such other acts as shall, in the judgment of the Advisory Board, be necessary and proper in fostering and promoting the industrial development and economic welfare of the State.

The bankers association named Richard Davenport of Harrisburg its representative and Clyde O'Keefe of Carrier Mills its alternate on the Saline County Industrial Central committee in process of organization following the meeting last Friday night called by the Industrial committee of the Saline County Board of Supervisors.

City License Deadline July 1

Auto owners living in Harrisburg were reminded again today by Chief of Police Ross Lane that the deadline is drawing near for the purchase of city licenses. He pointed out that police will start giving out tickets to persons who do not have them July 1.

Administration Maneuvers to Keep Bill Alive

Will Be Called For New Vote Later in Week

SPRINGFIELD (UP)—The House refused in a session that stretched into the wee hours today to approve the judicial reform plan backed by the administration and already approved in the Senate.

But administration members maneuvered to keep the proposal alive and flatly predicted it will win approval when called for a new vote later in this final week of the legislative session.

At its high point during a wrangling session that started at 8 p. m. Monday and wound up shortly before 2 a. m. today, the judicial reform plan had 107 favorable votes, just 11 short of the 118 needed for approval.

Then sponsors of the plan moved to postpone a final announcement of the vote, a maneuver that kept the proposal alive for a later vote and another try for approval.

The House then refused to approve a Democratic-sponsored alternate court reform plan which got only 42 favorable votes.

Before the vote was taken on the administration backed majority plan, the House shot it full of amendments which will mean that even if it does eventually win House approval, it will have to go to a joint Senate-House conference committee for agreement on amendments, then be brought back to both houses for still another vote.

House members offered more than 20 amendments to the court reform plan.

It adopted six of the amendments. The principal amendment adopted was a victory for downstate members, and the principal amendment killed was a defeat for the downstaters.

The principal amendment adopted would provide for four appellate court districts instead of the three provided in the Senate version. There would be 12 Appellate Court judges in Cook County, and 3 from each of three downstate districts, instead of 12 in Cook County and 4 from each of two downstate districts.

The principal amendment defeated would have increased the size of the Supreme Court to nine members, with three from Cook County and two from each of three downstate districts. The Senate version provides for three Supreme Court justices from Cook County and only two from each of two downstate districts.

In effect, this Senate version takes away two Supreme Court

Ike's Team Breaks Up

Editorial — BY BRUCE BLOSSAT

History indicates plainly that as a president's time in office runs on, changes in his cabinet become more and more common.

When a new president takes over, his prestige is high. His leverage upon men in almost every walk of life is great. Most of the big names he calls upon to serve him respond willingly.

For a good many men who do respond, the tour of duty in government may put a kind of cap on their careers. It can mean a fresh challenge, a novelty, a chance to enlist in a cause.

To some, the lure of this new opportunity is enduring and they stay on as long as does the president who summoned them. But for others, the excitement may wane, or the strain of conflict at high policy levels grow too great, or newer, brighter opportunities beckon.

Up until recently former Secretary of the Interior Douglas Mc-Kay was the biggest name lost by President Eisenhower. But now he is losing his Treasury secretary, George Humphrey, the conservative rock of his cabinet, and it is rumored Secretary of Defense Charles Wilson and others may follow.

One's view of their service naturally depends in good measure on one's own politics. But few would deny that these men have served Mr. Eisenhower and their country faithfully. Nor can they be begrudged the chance to seek out a quieter course of life, if that is what they want.

Seldom are cabinet replacements quite the equal of their predecessors in "name" stature, though now and then they may match or surpass them in ability.

When this is the case, they may in time come to have as much or more influence on top policy-making as did the original cabinet officers.

When the successors do not measure as high, however, the usual effect is to confer greater influence on others, either in the cabinet or in the president's intimate White House circle, who have the advantage of seniority in service and familiarity with the chief executive's personality and working ways.

Some observers say this is now happening in Mr. Eisenhower's case. In other words, they think the departure of Humphrey and possibly others will signal a shift of influence to men on the White House staff, men of more liberal leaning than certain of the cabinet stand-outs.

This judgment could be premature. But at least it can be said that the time has come to look for such shifts of weight and temper in the President's managing crew. For clearly the old 1953 team is breaking up.

ized in 1867 by Oliver Hudson

"I'm Positive Now That Teachers Are Underpaid"

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says: U.
S. Treasury Is In A Mess; Government Can't Float Its Bonds; Interest Rates On U.
S. Bonds Have Increased National Debt.

WASHINGTON. — By an ironical twist which the general public doesn't realize, George Humphrey is stepping out as Secretary of the Treasury just as the Treasury is in one of the worst messes in recent history.

To quote the Wall Street Journal: "The government of the United States is in a fiscal mess.
The Treasury of the richest nation on earth is short of money. At one point this spring it had hardly enough cash to pay a week's worth of bills."

Yet Mr. Humphrey has been hailed as the strong man of the cabinet and one of the greatest secretaries of the Treasury in history.

The fact is, however, that Victory bonds have been selling at $86, the same panic levels at which millions of people sold and took their losses on Liberty bonds after World War I. In addition, the Treasury's interest rate for long-term bonds is at the highest point in history, despite which the bonds can't be sold to the public.
The recent $4,200,000,000 bond offering at 3 5/8 per cent for 57 months was a complete bust. The investing public just wouldn't buy.

On top of this the Treasury has to raise $55 billion to cover maturing bonds in the next 12 months. Yet it has now given up all hope of raising money through long-term bonds and gone back to short-term notes.

BANKERS IN CONTROL

One of the big campaign issues of the Eisenhower administration was to get away from short-term hand-to-mouth financing. To accomplish this, one of the leading businessmen of the nation, George Humphrey, was made Secretary of the Treasury, while the actual job of revising fiscal policy was put under Randolph Burgess of the National City Bank, a strong critic of the government's past bond policy under Henry Morgenthau.
Burgess is married to a great - great-granddaughter of Alexander Hamilton, first Secretary of the Treasury and the father of American fiscal policy.

One of the first things Burgess did was announce that he would take $170 billion of the government's debt and put it away in long-term bonds for 20 or 30 years.

To please the bankers, he also jacked up interest rates. This was his worst mistake. After he had hiked interest rates on one bond issue, he couldn't go back to lower rates on other issues. The bankers and the investors wouldn't take it.

So the cost of handling the national debt today, because of increased interest charges, is about the same as the cost of the entire government budget during the peak days of WPA and PWA, when many business leaders were denouncing the high cost of government.

Meanwhile, the government has enough money to last through June. But $4 billion will be needed in July. In August, the Treasury faces another $15-1/2 billion in maturities, with another $8 billion in October. Though part of these are held by the Federal Reserve, at least $9 to $10 billion are in public hands.

These public investors are finding that they can get a better return from the stock market or in municipal bonds. They don't like having their money tied up in long-term government bonds when runaway inflation is daily depleting the value of the dollar.

You can write it down, therefore, that as long as inflation continues, the Treasury will face an almost impossible problem of floating its loans. No wonder George Humphrey is anxious to exit as Secretary of the Treasury.

NAVY SLAPS BACK

You can't prove it, but it looks as if the Navy had decided to retaliate against congressional economizers. It has ordered an abrupt close-down of the Elizabeth City, N. C. naval facility.

This naval station is in the district of North Carolina's Herbert Bonner, chairman of the House
Merchant Marine and Fisheries committee and a leading budget-cutter. His votes have been considered anti-Navy.

You can't get anyone at the Navy Department to admit this, but it seems highly unusual that the Elizabeth City naval base should be closed, for two reasons:

1. It is a blimp base used to patrol the Atlantic coast for submarines; and more Russian subs have been lurking off the coast than ever, watching guided missile operations.

2. Elizabeth City happens to have the only two hangars that can accommodate the new blimps ordered by the Navy. When they are delivered, they'll have no place to go except Elizabeth City —unless new hangars are built, which would certainly be no economy.

If you ask anyone at the Navy about this, all you get are smiles.
However, it certainly looks as if Congressman Bonner is getting slapped and slapped hard.

Note — The cost to Elizabeth
City will be a $3,000,000 a year
Navy payroll. Other areas around the U. S. A. are beginning to learn ADD MERRY GO — BUD
what budget-pruning means, as other military facilities are closed down.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

Lo this is our God; we have waited for him. We will be glad and rejoice in his Salvation. Isaiah 25:9.

Uncounted millions believe this prophecy was fulfilled in Christ.
We can appropriate Him through faith.

Boaters Urge Common Sense

CHICAGO (UPI)—A survey by the Outboard Boating Club of America reports boaters are in favor of stricter enforcement of present laws and want more education for "common sense afloat."

As an exampl of "common sense afloat," Far: Fey of the club cited a case in which a friend sailed his 36-foot cruiser 15 miles off the coast of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., and met a family in a 16-foot runabout.
"The gentleman was just slightly confused," Fey said. "He couldn't see, or for that matter didn't know the direction of land. To add to his confusion, he didn't have a compass."

Fey said the survey revealed that 65.5 per cent of the more than 24,000 answers said enforcement of present boating laws was inadequate or non-existing. And, of the existing laws, some were "just plain ridiculous."

Fey noted that in one state there is a boat motor limitation of five horsepower.

"If you put a five-horse motor on an eight-foot boat," he said,
"you'd swamp it, while with the same motor on an 18-foot boat, you'd spend 10 days traveling five miles."

There is a brighter side to small boating, however. Fey said information from the Bureau of Vital Statistics revealed fewer small boat accidents now than five years ago, even with the increased interest.

Our sad-faced friend is Bill McGoo.
Who thought he'd bought a car brand-new;
And while he got a "special deal"
His disappointment he can't conceal!
While others drive in Swept-Wing style
Poor Bill just mutters curses vile;
"They got new styling, features, too—
"I bought a 'deal'—boo-hoo, boo-hoo!"

Moral: Yesterday's looks and features are no bargain at any price!

No car is a bargain if it's obsolete in styling and engineering features. And the Swept-Wing Dodge actually obsoletes other cars in its field with its low, low look of tomorrow and revolutionary advances like Torsion-Aire Ride, Push-Button TorqueFlite and Total-Contact Brakes. So don't get "bargain-talked" into yesterday's styling and features. The same money buys the car that's years ahead. See your Dodge dealer. Join the swing to the Swept-Wing Dodge.

Janie Lavender Will Tour in Northwest

Miss Janie Lavender, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Lavender of 330 South Main street, Harrisburg, left Sunday to tour in the western and northwestern states with her sister, Raenelle Lavender her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Owen Dixon, and Owen Dixon Jr., all of Cleveland, Ohio. The relatives were guests in the Lavender home over the week end and the touring party left Sunday.

The itinerary includes the Grand Canyon of Colorado, Las Vegas, Nevada, Long Beach, Hollywood and Disneyland in California, Seattle, Wash., and Yellowstone National park in Wyoming.

The party will return to Cleveland in about three weeks and Janie will have a week there, before returning to her home in Harrisburg. Janie was twelve years old Monday.

Whiteside-Boren Wedding Wednesday

Mr. and Mrs. Rolla Whiteside of 427 South McKinley, Harrisburg, are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Miss Elaine Whiteside, to Phillip Boren, son of Rev. and Mrs. J. D. McCarty of 507 South McKinley.

The wedding will take place in the McKinley Avenue Baptist church at half-past eight o'clock on Wednesday.

Friends and relatives of both families are cordially invited to attend. No invitations are being mailed.

O. T. Swinney, 508 East Poplar, retired salesman who has been in DePaul hospital, St. Louis, for four weeks, due to blood clots, has been moved to Benton to the Franklin county hospital, that he may be under the care and observation of a son, Dr. W. J. Swinney. He is reported improving.

Fred McGhee, 417 West Locust street, is in the Lightner hospital seriously ill following a heart attack. No visitors are allowed.

Social and Personal Items

Miss Barbara Ann Rose, Walter H. Volkman Wed; Honeymoon in Europe

Mr. and Mrs. Walter H. Volkman

Miss Barbara Ann Rose, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joyce Hayward Rose of New Burnside, and Walter Henry Volkman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter C. Volkman of Kewanee, were married in a candlelight wedding at St. John's Evangelical and Reformed church in Kewanee, Tuesday. The Rev. Myron Schmitt performed the double-ring ceremony before the altar, decorated with matching ceramic vases of white gladioli and golden harvest carnations, and branch candelabras of lighted candles.

The bride was given in marriage by her father.

The bride wore a gown of white organdy over net and taffeta. It was fashioned with a fitted bodice and a full-length bouffant skirt. Embroidered medallions adorned the bodice and skirt front, extending around the hemline. The sleeves were short and fitted and the neckline was square at the front, becoming a deep V at the back. Her pillbox styled head-dress was also of a medallion pattern and secured her elbow-length veil of illusion. Her bouquet was a rhapsody arrangement of stephanotis and she wore pearls, a gift of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Kenneth Martin Jr., of Greenfield, Ind., sister of the bride, served as her matron of honor and wore a dress of white organdy over Nile-green taffeta. The fitted bodice and ballerina length bouffant skirt were complemented with a Sabrina neckline and a tiered organdy cummerbund sash ending in a tulle bow at the back waistline. She wore a tiered-organdy crownless hat and carried a cascade bouquet of golden harvest carnations and lilies. She wore pearl jewelry, a gift of the bride.

Mrs. Robert L. Hill of Mt. Vernon, sister of the bride, served as bridesmaid and her costume was identical with that of the matron of honor. Her pearls were a gift of the bride, also.

Diane Hill of Mt. Vernon, niece of the bride, was flower girl, wearing a dress made in miniature of the other women attendants' dresses. She carried a basket of yellow and white daisies.

Carl Ahrens of St. Anne acted as best man and David Ferris of Kankakee, groomsman. Don Kuester and James Thomas, brothers-

Brushy Farm Home Scene of Wedding Shower

There was a wedding shower in the Brushy farm home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Thornberry Thursday. The shower was in honor of Miss Virginia Thornberry and James Kaytor whose wedding day was Friday. The engaged couple received and opened many beautiful and useful gifts, thoughtfully chosen by their friends and relatives.

Attending the shower were: Mrs. Frieda McFarland, Janice McFarland, Pauline Kaytor, Mae Carmichael, Mary Griesell, Beulah Bond, Margaret Bond, Lois Nangle, June Bond, Mrs. Mabel Beers and children, Pearl Bond, Polly Abney, Georgia Rose, Mickey Rose, Steve Rose, Margaret Rose, Lois Ann Reynolds, Mrs. Don Hopkins, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Graham, Sandra Miller, Barbara Miller, Mr. and Mrs. James R. Bozarth, Emm. Edwards, Pearl Kaytor, Irene Call, Lee Abney, Mr. and Mrs. Clark Stewart, Nell Ray, Ruth Patterson, Ardena Laswell, Ruth Bond, Ethel Abney, Mittie Beers, Grace Bond, Beulah N. Reynolds, Mr. and Mrs. Noble Gouge, Lucille Abney, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Collard, and the host and hostess.

There were many gifts sent by those who could not attend.

Mrs. Raymond Fairsh and her mother, Mrs. Charles R. Gaskins of Springfield, formerly of Harrisburg, are visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Wilkison of 715 South McKinley. The visit is a combination of business and vacation, and they are disposing of certain properties of the Charles R. Gaskins estate.

Mail to The Register brought a special card from R. C. Gloria, David and Carol Adams of 711 West Sloan street, Harrisburg, showing that they were at the Disneyland Hotel in California, recently.

Eleanor Roosevelt Refused Visa To Visit Red China

NEW YORK (AP) — Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt said today she had asked for a visa to visit Communist China, but was turned down.

"I made application and was told that, as yet, no newsman was permitted by our government to visit Communist China," Mrs. Roosevelt said in her column, My Day. The column is distributed by United Features Syndicate, Inc.

"I still hope that the State Department may find it possible to allow all correspondents who wish to gather news from this area of the world to go there if the Chinese will allow them to enter.

"I believe it might be easier to learn some things in China than in the Soviet Union. But I am anxious to go to the Soviet Union, too," she said. "Since I cannot now go to China, I hope that I will be able to visit the Soviet Union in the near future."

in-law to the bridegroom, and Richard Gibbs, ushered.

There was a reception immediately following the wedding ceremony and hostesses were Miss Carolyn Bernhard, Miss Janet Heidbreder, Mrs. Don Kuester, Mrs. Robert James, Mrs. James Van Buskirk and Mrs. Hugh McCracken.

The bride chose a beige linen sheath dress for her wedding trip, a straw hat and beige and rust accessories. Her corsage was of multicolored gladioli tips.

Mr. and Mrs. Volkman are touring in Europe on their honeymoon and when they return, will be at home to their friends at 369 South Lincoln avenue, Kewanee.

The bride was graduated from SIU and has been teaching speech correction in Kewanee.

Mr. Volkman was graduated from the University of Illinois and is associated with Volkman's jew elers.

Harrisburg Couples Attend 1932 Class Reunion at Eldorado High School

The Silver anniversary of the 1932 graduating class of the Eldorado Township high school was observed Saturday evening, June 15, with a banquet in the school cafeteria.

Couples attending from Harrisburg were Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Reed and Mr. and Mrs. William Epperheimer (Mrs. Reed and Mrs. Epperheimer were members of the graduating class). Mr. and Mrs. Ed Bean and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wilmoth helped serve the meal. Mrs. Bean and Mrs. Wilmoth were members of the Junior class at that time.

There were 103 members in the graduating class with approximately half of this number in attendance for the reunion and with their companions, former teachers and other guests 106 attended the social affair.

Each member of the class introduced themselves and their companions and told something of their family.

T. Leo Dodd, who was assistant principal in 1932, made a short talk as well as several former teachers who were present.

J. Lester Buford, who was principal in 1932, was unable to attend as had been planned.

Pictures were made of the class with and without the companions

Calendar Of Meetings

The Golden Rule circle of the First General Baptist church will meet in the home of Mrs. James Fowler, 504 North Granger street, Harrisburg, at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday.

The circles of the Women's Guild of the Presbyterian church will meet Wednesday at 2 p. m. with the following hostesses: Sarah Wiedemann with Mrs. Gordon McGee, Nella Gregg with Mrs. Geo. Smith and Mary Seten with Mrs. J. O. Wells.

The Eagles Auxiliary will meet Thursday at 7:30 p. m. instead of Wednesday. Please bring a dish-towel. Shirley Bensavage, president.

The executive committee of the WSCS of the First Methodist church will meet Wednesday at 1 p. m. in the church parlor. Officers elected and recently installed are reminded that they are to attend, this being the first meeting of the new church year. Following the executive meeting the general meeting of the society will convene at 2 o'clock at Wesley Center. All women of the church are urged to attend. This will be the last meeting until September.

Midweek service at the First Methodist church will be held Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. in the Hall Chapel.

Thinking It Over

By Robert I. Dieffenbacher, D. D. (Written for NEA Service)

Wild life in America is protected by laws and public pressure. Before this protection was established, some species of our American animals became almost extinct. The egret and the buffalo were being killed by selfish, thoughtless people at a rate so high they became curiosities.

Since these birds and animals are being protected, their population has increased by the hundreds. They can now be seen living in full freedom in many unexpected places.

Some birds and beasts, and some people, need protection not only from ravages of hunters but also from themselves. We should not expect all of this protection to come from law. Most of it ought to come from self-control and from our own desire to be considerate of others.

Slide Rule Helps Out

In Speeding Case

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)— Marvin Lee Perryman Jr., 29-year-old engineer, used his slide rule to figure his way out of a traffic fine in Criminal Court.

Perryman, charged with driving 70 miles per hour in a 35-mile zone on Henry Watterson Expressway, brought his slide rule to Traffic Court.

He produced a hand-drawn map and used the slide rule to show that police could not have clocked him at 70 miles per hour. He was fined $75 but appealed the fine in Criminal Court.

He entered a plea of guilty to an amended charge of breach of peace and was given a suspended fine.

OLDSMOBILE

RIGHT IN TUNE WITH TODAY'S LIVING

"Lasting Value is the thing that sold me on Olds!"

Attendant: Well, I've looked at Olds from every angle, underneath, under the hood, and I can tell you—Olds really knows how to put 'em together!

Owner: Yes, and Olds has style that you know will stay in style. Ever check on how much more you get for an Olds trade-in?

Attendant: You get more than lots of higher priced cars bring.

Owner: Right! The way Oldsmobile value lasts makes it a smart investment. And there's lots more...

Attendant: Sure, take that Rocket Engine... there's still nothing quite like it. I always talk it up, even though the new J-2 Rocket does mean I pump less gas.

Owner: When you add it up, and take a look at the price—it really makes sense to own an Olds.

Attendant: That's for sure. I'm driving a Golden Rocket 88, too! And more and more of my customers are going over to Oldsmobile.

*Rocket 1-400 Engine, with 277 h.p., standard on all models. 1-2 Rocket, with 300 h.p. and 415-lb.-ft. torque, optional at extra cost.

Rains in Crab Orchard

Area May Change Diet

For Canadian Geese

MARION, Ill. (UPI)—Heavy rains at the Crab Orchard national wildlife refuge near here may force a change in diet next winter for transient Canadian geese.

Refuge Manager Harry Stiles said he's concerned about the planting timetable for corn. Only a third to a half of the normal corn crop has been planted because of wet conditions.

Tenacious farmers who till the government land leave a third of the crops in the field for the geese. "We may have to plant more sorghums, buckwheat and other faster maturing crops," Stiles said.

Roman gladiators, originally slaves or condemned criminals, eventually became a class like prize fighters, schooled even to die gracefully. The Emperor Trajan sponsored a mass fight of 5,000 gladiators, and Claudius "entertained" with a mock sea battle among 19,000 on an artificial lake. Revolting against their destiny, 150,000 once nearly succeeded in taking Rome before they were quelled; in retribution, thousands were crucified.

Happily Married Man Expresses His Gratitude

SPRINGFIELD (U.P.) — Those newspaper notices that read "I am not responsible for debts contracted by my wife etc" bother Charles F. Bender, a happily married man for 28 years.

So Saturday Bender inserted in the Illinois State Register a classified notice that said:

"I am responsible for all debts and obligations of my wife, Clara, both present and future and am more than happy to be the provider for a woman who has borne me three lovely children and who with an abundance of love and care has made the past 28 years of married life the nicest years of my life. I wish to express my heartfelt gratitude."

Bender said he placed the ad because "I got tired of seeing the other kind."

His wife said "I think it's the nicest compliment he could have given me."

Senate Passes Bills to Extend Increases in Sales, Use Taxes

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—Only Gov. William G. Stratton's signature was required today on bills to make permanent the 1/2 cent increase in the state sales and use taxes imposed on a temporary basis in 1955.

The Senate passed the bills extending the taxes at their current 2 1/2 per cent rate indefinitely Monday night, and Stratton's approval is assured.

The Senate also gave final approval to a $1,000 pay increase for legislators, from $5,000 a year to $6,000.

Stratton also has said he would sign this bill.

Sen. Roland V. Libonati (D-Chicago) said "we've raised everybody else's salary" and "it's about time the public knew how poorly we're paid."

Also approved by the Senate were bills to raise the pay of state's attorneys in a range from $600 to $2,000 a year depending on population, and to increase the state's share toward these salaries by $1,000 a year.

Other bills passed and sent to the governor at the Senate night session would:

Permit counties to establish curfew for children under 18.

Require that warning signs be posted 100 feet before areas where radar is used to detect speeders.

Designate the second Sunday in October each year as Grandmother's Day.

Require the father or mother of a child born out of wedlock to support the child to age 18.

Earlier at an afternoon session, the Senate brought back to life the battle over the 1955 truck splash guard law.

The Senate amended a bill to provide that the 1955 law, already upheld by the Supreme Court, should apply only to trucks bought and put into service after July 1.

The House, meanwhile, voted to accept Senate amendments to a bill to permit the governor or state police chief to hire civil defense personnel for work as auxiliary state police on weekend or holiday traffic patrol and other emergencies.

The bill now goes to the governor for signature.

Army Drops Betrayal Charge, Nickerson Pleads Guilty to Others

HUNTSVILLE, Ala. (AP)—Col. John C. Nickerson Jr. was convicted today of self-confessed charges that he was careless with the nation's rocket-missile secrets, but the Army withdrew an accusation that the officer betrayed his country.

Nickerson, 41, could receive up to 30 years at hard labor and heavy fines on all the 15 counts but the guilty plea would be a factor.

His civilian attorney, Robert K. Bell, said the defense would call 14 witnesses "who we think are all important to us."

These include Dr. Werhner von Braun and Ernest Stuhlinger, former German scientists who have worked with Nickerson on the Jupiter intermediate missile at Redstone Arsenal here.

It was Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson's order to allot missiles of the Jupiter class to the Air Force that led to Nickerson's indiscretion with defense secrets. He contended the Army was best qualified in that field.

Attorney Bell said the trial probably still would go partly into closed sessions when the defense witnesses testify. Their only contribution will be to provide mitigating circumstances, such as his motives, since his guilt is established.

A general court-martial spent only 15 minutes in the jury room before returning with the formality of a "guilty" verdict. The rest of the trial was devoted only to determination of the sentence against Nickerson.

The withdrawal of the more serious charge of espionage, which also contained two perjury counts, and the guilty plea all came in the first hour and 20 minutes of the heralded trial.

Count one in the second charge, dealing with espionage, accused Nickerson of passing on to Erik Bergaust, editor of Missiles and Rockets magazine, three secret documents dealing with the missile program.

Nickerson had reason to believe, the charge said, that the documents contained information which he had reason to believe could be used to the injury of the United States or to the advantage of a foreign nation.

Counts two and three charged that Nickerson lied about sending copies of a memorandum he wrote to the office of Columnist Drew Pearson and to John A. Baumann of Radio Corporation of America.

West Frankfort Kroger Store Held Up; $700 Taken

WEST FRANKFORT, Ill. (AP)—Police threw up roadblocks around West Frankfort after a man, posing as a shopper, held up the Kroger food store here of $700 today.

Store Manager Bob McPhail said the man pulled a revolver as it was his turn to be checked out and told McPhail to "clean out the cash registers."

McPhail ran out of the store as the man left and saw the robber escape with another man in a 1955 green Pontiac with Indiana license plates, he said. The car turned north on Ill. 37.

Charge Two with Violating Conflict Of Interest Laws

MOUNT VERNON, Ill. (AP)—Two members of the Mount Vernon Airport Authority Board have been charged with violating the state conflict of interest laws.

Warrants against the two were sworn out Saturday in Justice Court by Sherman Bullock, a cleaning plant employee and supporter of Mayor Virgil T. Bailey. The mayor has been at odds with the Airport Authority.

The warrants named Clarence E. Brehm and Frank Smoot. Brehm was charged with having an interest in a contract award to build a hangar and to provide a tractor and mower for the airport. Smoot was charged with voting on a contract in which his employer, an architect, was involved.

Police Chief Asks Contact With Loser of Suitcase

Chief of Police Ross Lane today asked for the person who recently reported losing a suitcase off his car to please contact the city police department. Lane said the person's name had been misplaced and he desired to talk to the person about the loss.

Taken to Menard

LeRoy Dooley of Eldorado today was taken to Menard penitentiary to serve a one to three year term for burglary and larceny. Dooley pleaded guilty to a charge of burglary and larceny in circuit court and was sentenced by Judge C. E. Wright. He admitted burglarizing the Eldorado Locker plant grocery. Deputy Sheriff Everett N. Sneed took Dooley to the penitentiary.

Pass Bill to Exempt Farmers from Penalty If Wheat for Own Use

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate has passed a bill which would exempt from penalty wheat growers who raise wheat in excess of their acreage allotment if the entire crop is used for food, feed or seed on the farm.

The bill now goes to the House where an agriculture subcommittee Monday approved a similar measure with a 30-acre limitation. Present law forbids farmers who have no wheat acreage allotment to plant and harvest more than 15 acres of wheat—even if they feed all of it to their chickens.

House Refuses to Approve Judicial Reform

Judges from downstate which now elects six while Cook County elects only one.

The Senate version of court reform also would leave up to a future General Assembly the controversial question of any change in the method of election and nomination of circuit judges.

It provides that any change in the method and selection would have to be approved by a two-thirds vote in the Legislature and then submitted to the voters at a general election.

But another key amendment was approved by the House with reference to this matter. The amendment, sponsored by Rep. Paul Powell (D-Vienna), provided that whenever the question of a change in election or nomination was submitted to the voters, the votes should be counted separately in Cook County and downstate.

Then if Cook County approved a change and downstate disapproved, the change would take effect in Cook County and not in downstate, or vice versa.

Powell said the amendment would provide "home rule" and would not force an unwanted court reform change on downstate.

But sponsors of court reform and a spokesman for the Illinois Bar Assn. conceded the amendment greatly weakened the court reform plan.

However, a bar association spokesman said Powell's amendment was "not fatal" to court reform.

The House killed amendments that would have allowed magistrates to continue to be paid on a fee basis provided for cumulative voting for judges, and required that magistrates be lawyers.

Other amendments adopted were mostly of a minor technical nature.

Under the court reform plan, probate, county and municipal judges of the Circuit Court, and magistrates and justices of the peace would become magistrates of the Circuit Courts.

Cook County would be one judicial circuit with one circuit judge and 48 associate judges. Downstate circuit alignments would not be changed.

The Supreme Court would have authority to set up rules of practice and procedure for all other courts and to switch judges from one circuit to another to handle heavy caseloads.

The court reform plan, being a constitutional amendment, must receive a two-thirds vote of approval in both houses of the Legislature, then be submitted to the voters in November, 1958.

Gus Abner, 69, Dies at Eldorado; Rites Wednesday

Gus Abner, 69, of 2151 1-2 West Locust street, Eldorado, died in the Ferrell hospital at 2:30 a. m. today. He was a retired farmer and had been in ill health for a long period of time. He leaves his wife Beulah and the following children: Raymond Abner of Benson, Minn., Gerald Abner of Marquette, Minn., Ronnie Abner of Seafield, Calif., and William Abner of Chicago, Mrs. William Reyer of Dawson, Minn., and Mrs. Maynard Reyer of Yakima, Wash.

His brothers, James Abner of St. Louis, Mo., Henry Abner of Alton, Fred Abner of Lake Villa, and his sister, Mrs. Anna Blair of Muncie, Ind., survive. There are twelve grandchildren. A stepdaughter, Pauline Arris of St. Louis, Mo., and a stepson, Phillip Mettrick of Miami, Fla., also survive.

The body will lie in state at the Martin funeral home in Eldorado until the funeral which will be held at 2 p. m. Wednesday in the Gospel Assembly church. Dr. A. B. Bullock will officiate and burial will be in the Wolf Creek cemetery.

Fallout Problems Will Be Part of Operation Alert

CHICAGO (AP)—Radiological fallout problems will be part of Operation Alert 1957 during the July 12 training test in Illinois, Director of Civil Defense Gen. Robert M. Woodward announced.

He said that some 12,000 radiological monitors are now trained in Illinois and that "ample instruments" are distributed through the state for detecting radioactive fallout from nuclear bombs.

The civil defense exercise will include detecting the probable fallout pattern following mythical enemy bombs with the help of the U. S. Weather Bureau and Civil Air Patrol planes, Woodward said.

Clyde Arnold of Stonefort Dies

Clyde Arnold, 55, died at 2:15 a. m. today in the Lightner hospital at Harrisburg. He was a resident of Stonefort and leaves his wife, Velma and two children, Charles and Beverly in the home. He leaves his daughters, Mrs. Shirley (Arnold) Bittner of Springfield and Mrs. Blondal (Beatrice) Morse of Stonefort. His grandson is Sonny Morse of Stonefort.

The body will lie in state at the Thornton funeral home in Stonefort until the funeral at 2 p. m. Thursday in the Stonefort Baptist church. Rev. George Smith, assisted by Rev. Louie Stricklin, will officiate and Masonic rites will be observed. Burial will be in the Blackman cemetery, Stonefort RFD.

Illinois Farmers Impressed by Hard Work of Soviet Women

ROCKFORD, Ill. (AP)—A group of Midwest farmers just returned from a 17-day tour of Russia have agreed their wives wouldn't like living in the Soviet—they'd have to work too hard.

The 30 farmers, who returned Monday, said the most impressive thing about Russia was not Soviet collective farming, but the hard labor put in by Russian women.

All of one of the group was from the Rockford area in north central Illinois. They were joined by a farmer from Brodhead, Wis.

The farmers' trip was arranged by a Rockford television station, and the group paid its own way at a cost of about $1,400 to $1,800 each. All of them seemed to think it was a good investment.

The group was critical of Russian farms which they said were "inefficient."

New Funds Will Boost Mail Operations To $3.3 Billion

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House has voted an extra 133 million dollars to keep the nation's mail service running along without cutbacks next year.

The total was $16,500,000 less than the $149,500,000 Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield asked for but apparently was enough to satisfy the mail boss. Rep. Gordon Canfield (R-N. J.) said Summerfield assured him the Post Office Department would be able to get along with the reduced amount.

The new funds, if approved by the Senate, will boost to a record $3,325,000,000 the total available for mail operations in the fiscal year beginning Monday. Summerfield had warned of a series of postal cutbacks, including Saturday held in conjunction with Rechter's week end sales event and registration at the store was the only requirement.

day post office closings and suspension of Saturday deliveries if the additional money was not forthcoming.

The cost of some special mail services will go up Monday to produce an estimated 28 million dollars a year in postal revenues. The price of special delivery stamp goes up from 20 to 30 cents and charges for registered and insured letters and money orders also go up.

The Senate Monday approved a $457,152,600 money bill to operate the Interior Department and related agencies next year after adding $900,000 to the measure.

The 81-to-0 vote sent the measure to a joint Conference Committee to thresh out differences with the House version.

The Senate added $500,000 to the measure to aid states in reforestation of lands included in the soil bank and $400,000 for the Independence Hall Historical Park in Philadelphia.

The overall bill was $2,756,000 larger than the House version but was $58,037,100 below the President's original requests.

Junior Legion Loses To Norris City

Norris City beat Harrisburg 3-1 Sunday afternoon in a Junior Legion league contest at Norris City.

Jerry King, on the mound for Harrisburg, pitched well although he lost. King allowed but three hits and walked but two.

Meanwhile Harrisburg got six hits off Johnson, Norris City hurler, but could push only one run across the plate. Bob Clark got two hits and Ron Maynard. Don Pickford, Darrell Beggs and King one each.

It was a well-played game, each team making but one error. Wednesday at 8 p. m. Harrisburg will entertain Eldorado in a league game at the VFW park. Clark probably will hurl for Harrisburg.

Bauer Cleared of Assault Charge; Plans Suit for False Arrest

NEW YORK — Cleared of a felonious assault charge by a grand jury, New York Yankee outfielder Hank Bauer today planned to file suit against his accuser for false arrest and malicious prosecution.

The panel refused to indict Bauer Monday on a charge he slugged Edwin Jones, a delicatessen store proprietor, during an altercation

Gene Bland, Harrisburg Township high school faculty member, is returning to athletics at the school ext fall, it was announced today by Principal Eltis F. Henson, who also revealed he had received the signed contracts of John Dotson as head basketball coach and Lawrence Calufetti as head football coach.

Bland, who will be athletic director and assist in freshman-sophomore football and basketball next year, retired from athletics early in 1956 after suffering a heart attack, but remained on the faculty as a teacher. He was head basketball coach and assistant varsity football coach at the time he became ill.

Calufetti has been head football coach the past three years and Dotson this spring completed his first year as head coach of basketball. In spring sports Calufetti will coach track and Dotson baseball.

In coaching freshman-sophomore football and basketball Bland will take the place on the staff held by Hal Killebrew, who recently resigned.

Also resigning are Ben Chamness, member of the coaching staff, and his wife, Ardith, who taught girls' physical education last year.

Both will attend Murray State College at Murray, Ky., this fall. Chamness will work toward his master's degree and work as assistant football coach. His wife will do graduate work.

Principal Henson said he was studying several applications for the posts held by Mr. and Mrs. Chamness.

MAN OF LETTERS — Mickey Mantle of the Yankees still can wrap his hands around a bat and swish for distance — no matter how many autographs he's called on to give during a day.

Norris, Wirtz Banned from N. York Boxing

NEW YORK —Defense attorneys for the Jim Norris boxing monopoly today studied the possibilities of appealing Federal Judge Sylvester J. Ryan's knockout decision to the United States Supreme Court.

Norris said, "Whether we appeal or not, I intend to remain in boxing — if it's only in the Midwest."

Ryan's admittedly "drastic" decision apparently bans Norris and his partner Arthur Wirtz permanently from big-time boxing in New York.

The 13-page verdict read Monday from the bench in U. S. District Court not only dissolves the two International Boxing Clubs permanently and divorces Norris and Wirtz permanently from the Madison Square Garden Corp., but it also gives the court permanent jurisdiction over the defendants and their title-bout activities.

And one of the major reasons for the "dissolution and divorce" in his decision was the judge's desire to restore promotional competition between the East and Midwest.

Norris, president of the Garden Corp. and of the Stadium Corp., and Wirtz, a director in both organizations, were ordered to dispose of their 2 million dollars' worth of stock in the Garden Corp. and resign as officers and directors. Although they must resign by July 30, they have seven years in which to dispose of their shares through a trusteeship. During that period of disposal they will receive dividends on their shares but will have no stock-voting privileges—not even by proxies.

Stengel Praises Richards as Orioles Blank Tigers, 6-0; Dodgers Beat Cardinals, 10-3

By United Press

Casey Stengel describes Baltimore Manager Paul Richards as a "juggling genius," and praise from Caesar is praise indeed.

"That man Richards has taken a bunch of hand-me-offs and made them into a downright respectable ball club," Stengel says.

Richards has the once - down-trodden Orioles looking so respectable that they have taken 15 of their last 25 games and today are only 3 1/2 games away from the first division.

Like Stengel says, most of the Orioles are discards from other major league clubs, and Monday night two of them, pitcher Skinny Brown and third baseman Billy Goodman, combined talents in a 6-0 victory over the Detroit Tigers.

Brown, plucked from the minors by Richards after undistinguished showings with the White Sox and Red Sox, set the Tigers down on five hits and made liberal use of his knuckle ball in striking out six batters.

Phils, Redlegs Advance

Goodman, hitting a cool .343 since being obtained from Boston 10 days ago, contributed a two-run homer and a single in Baltimore's 12-hit attack that sent Duke Maas down to his fifth defeat.

The victory was the Orioles' fifth in their last seven games. Brooklyn crushed St. Louis, 10-3, and Philadelphia mauled Milwaukee, 10-4, in the only other major league games scheduled Monday night.

The defeat handed them by the Dodgers cut the Cardinals' lead in the National League to half a game over the idle Redlegs, who moved into second place as the Braves dropped to third.

St. Louis led 2-1 until Brooklyn chased Sam Jones with a six-run rally in the seventh inning. Pee Wee Reese and Carl Furillo each contributed two-run doubles in the big inning. Duke Snider slammed a pair of homers for the Dodgers, his 13th and 14th, while Furillo connected for one. Joe Cunningham of the Cards also homered.

The victory went to Carl Erskine, who pitched the first six innings and then was relieved by Ed Roebuck. It was Erskine's first victory of the season and his first since last Sept. 17.

collected a home run, triple and single as Barger's beat McKinley, 24-12. Bishop homered and singled, Williams singled and Hopper singled to round out the winners' attack. Taylor had two hits and Betz and Lovan had one each for the losers. Hefner and Davis pitched for McKinley.

Beal gave up only five hits while striking out nine to lead Social Brethren to an 8-4 win over Vick's. Cline and Simpson both doubled and singled, R. Hutchinson had two singles and D. Hutchinson, Asbell and McKeever hit safely once each for the winners. Summers tripled twice, Roberson tripled and Shelton and Vick singled for Vick's. Vick took the loss.

Ridgway tallied 11 times in the first inning and then went on to score a lopsided 21-0 victory over Pankey's. Cotton pitched a four-hitter and fanned nine for Ridgway to lead the winners' 13-hit attack. Abell had three hits and Kirby, Cotton and Roper had two safeties. Hill, Stunson, Barrett and S. Collins had the only Pankey hits.

Furlong fired a two-hitter at Aldridge's to give Buena Vista the 9-4 win. Biggs, the losing pitcher, gave up only five hits as he struck out nine. For the winners at the plate Dale had two singles Syers homered, Mitchell doubled and Beverly singled. Stricklin had both hits for Aldridge's.

Illinois College Receives Beecher Family Papers from Rev. Bernie Smith

Dr. L. Vernon Caine, president of Illinois College, Jacksonville, (left), and Dr. Garm Norbury, secretary of the Board of Trustees (right), examine some of the Beecher family papers which were presented to Illinois College at commencement time by Evangelist Bernie Smith of Harrisburg. The presentation accompanying these papers read: "Mr. Bernie Smith is happy to present this collection of Beecher Family Papers to Illinois College as a living memorial to Esther Brockett Gall, Harrisburg, Illinois, who was his teacher back in 1935. Her Christian personality and tender spirit influenced the total pattern of his ministry and life."

The papers include personal letters of Lyman Beecher, father of Edward Beecher, the first president of Illinois College, to his sister and brother; personal letters of two of his daughters, Catharine Beecher and Harriet Beecher Stowe; personal letters of his sons, Edward Beecher and Henry Ward Beecher; together with notes from several of Henry Ward Beecher's sermons; and letters to members of the family and autographs of five of Lyman Beecher's thirteen children—Harriet, Edward, Thomas K., James C., and Charles. The dates for these papers range from 1815 to the 1880's.

After Lyman Beecher was appointed first president of Lane Theological Seminary near Cincinnati and pastor of the Second Presbyterian church of Cincinnati in 1832, his doctrinal liberalism brought him into conflict with his regional superiors. In a letter from his daughter, Catharine Beecher, to Harper and Brothers (publishers) concerning her book, "The Religious Training of Children," she discusses at great length the change in religious thinking, explaining the views of her father and her brother Edward, saying that "in the theological world (both Catholic and Protestant) old systems are passing away with a speed and results that alarm the most courageous."

Mention is also made in the various papers of the writings of Harriet Beecher Stowe and one letter from John L. Ambrose of Somerville, Mass., to Mrs. Stowe asking her permission "to wed your poem, 'Still with Thee,' to a musical composition" and promises "that the music shall be worthy of the poem."

There are several letters from Henry Ward Beecher among the papers. In one dated April 15, 1879, to a friend, he states: "Of course, education, not alone in ideas, but in frugality, economy, thrift, industry, and temperance, is our permanent reliance for the help of the laboring classes. Men are their own capital. Working men do not half develop themselves. The best soil is Brains. A little more cultivation there will double the productive power of the hand." We also find that the evils of dust and dry weather plagued some people in those years even as they do now, for in a letter written from Monmouth, Illinois, on his way East from a trip to the West, Henry Ward Beecher says, "We got on very pleasantly until now we are in Illinois—after getting down into the low country, I have had a slight development of Hay Fever—but it is, I think, passing away, and I shall get home in good shape." Among Henry Ward Beecher's sermon notes, we find these "safe guards" to follow: "family institution, law and customs, . . . friends, Faith in God."

The Beecher family's association with Illinois College is a long and honored one dating from the founding of the college. Edward Beecher, son of Lyman Beecher, became the first president of Illinois College in 1830 and members of his family, including Henry Ward Beecher and Harriet Beecher Stowe, were visitors to the campus. His brother Thomas was graduated from the college in 1843. Illinois College is indeed fortunate to be able to add these papers to the already sizeable collection of Beecher family writings.

Ground was broken for construction of Gary, Ind., April 27, 1906 by the U. S. Steel Corp.

SUBSTITUTE DOCTOR

© 1957 by Elizabeth Seifert. Distributed by NEA Service. By ELIZABETH SEIFERT

THE STORY: With each passing day, Dr. Garde Shelton, the new doctor at the Bayard clinic, is reminded that he is filling the shoes of Dr. Kurt Lillard, who was convicted of murder. Garde is constantly being told that he does not have the bedside manner that Kurt had.

XI

Old Dr. Lillard came frequently to the clinic, a frail man, helped by a black and kindly chauffeur who once explained to Garde that the doctor had "forgot his memory." Charles was strong and skilled in transferring the paralyzed man from the car to his light wheelchair.

The old doctor could not speak. Garde thought perhaps that his over-all memory was intact, but his ability to remember words was gone. He could neither talk nor read nor write. One arm hung dead and useless; he had some service from his right leg, but at his age it was generally considered safer for him to use the chair.

His face and his eyes showed the great troubles weighing his heart. But he liked coming to the office, he liked this slight sharing of the clinic's work. Garde was sure that he did.

He was welcome, and no bother—except at the occasional times when he watched Garde almost pleadingly. Then the new doctor was inclined to say, "Don't worry, sir. I know I can't take your son's place."

He mentioned this impulse one evening after Dr. Lillard had been in his office.

"You're very good to him, I'd say," said Dr. Windsor.

"The old gentleman has something on his mind," Garde said, turning over cards, checking them with the notes he had made while examining each patient. "As if he wanted to say something—and couldn't."

Garde rewrote something on the note sheet so that Miss Sandbach could decipher it. "Should I try to guess what it is he wants to say?" "I think it only confuses him. We guess wrong—of course—and that upsets him."

"I see. Well . . ."

"Try not to mind. He's been a really fine man in his time. And this thing about Kurt . . . Windsor sighed heavily. Then he straightened. "It's odd, you know, Shelton, how many people that thing hurt! I wouldn't have thought—well, of course, I suppose all such tragedies disrupt life. Many lives. But here—it has been brought home to us."

"Ever since I've come here, using that other man's office, his desk, his pen—" Garde lifted the black and silver cylinder. "I've felt very much in this thing."

"D'you see much of those girls?" "A little. They're right next door, and I meet them occasionally in a social way. They've been very kind." He grinned, then told of his disagreement with Valley about the planting of the trees.

"What'd she want to plant trees for?"

"It wouldn't be—well—polite for her to discuss her reasons. Not with me who has to seem loyal to my dear, but undoubtedly inquisitive, mother."

Windsor laughed, and Garde suddenly remembered his primary judgment that he would like this man least of the three clinic doctors. He had never been more mistaken! Windsor was a prince.

Dr. Windsor put his crepe soles to the floor. "Hazel told me you'd love to lay paving stones this evening, doctor. It seems she talked to you about our project at the club the other night and that you even drew designs. She says you're very talented."

"I suspect her flattery as much as I do your account of it." Garde wrote a last sentence upon his sheet of notes. "It may get the family—and your patio—nowhere."

"Ah, but it can get you steak," Windsor reminded him. "And me too, because Hazel told me to bring you home this evening."

Garde laughed helplessly and got up from his chair. "I'll bet one of you has already called Mother and told her I'd not be home for dinner."

"All taken care of. I think of everything!"

These people—Dewey and Hazel Windsor at least—were his friends. He was making his own place with them, and he was going to have a fine evening of laying heavy paving stones and eating steak.

Genevieve Copeland that same week called to invite him to a party.

The Copeland home was the pink house at the end of his own street, the house which Garde had mentally named "Casa Rosada." His mother sniffed at its pinkness; she sniffed at Genevieve's extreme dressiness—and watched the Copelands about as closely as she did the Stanfields.

Now Genevieve said, "I won't even bother to ask your mother, Garde—but I hope you'll come." "I'd be happy to. Thank you very much."

"All right. And Garde?"

"Yes?"

Will you bring Nan Stanfield? You take Kurt's place in so many ways . . .

Now really! This was carrying the thing entirely too far! As close as she lived to Copelands', Nan could have taken herself to the party. And if she had to have a man bring her, the girl would prefer someone nearer her own age. She couldn't be much over 20. And she seemed very popular; everyone spoke admiringly of her. His mother said she went places with a variety of men, of assorted ages.

Of course Lillard must have been—must be—about Garde's age. (To Be Continued)
